The rain came at last.

L. G. Davidson bought a fine Duroc sow with ten pigs from T. L. Yantis.

Corn cutting and tobacco cutting at the same time makes very busy men of the farmers.

Read the interesting article on page six contributed by our good friend, Col. M. D. Hughes.

The man with the silo to save his winter forage finds himself exceptionally lucky just as this time.

The number of young ladies and gentlemen who have left Lancaster for school makes it unusually dull this time of year.

The enormous amount of coal being hauled out of Lancaster these days gives evidence that a cold winter is anticipated.

The spirit of building seems to still be in the bones of our people, and scarcely a street but upon which some building is being erected or improvement being made.

All trains on this branch of the L. & N. were late nearly every day of last week, even "Old Henry" caught the spirit and was about a half day late on last Thursday.

The bedlam to witnessed upon the Chicago Board of Trade cannot equal that created by the self constituted "Reception Committee" which meets every bride couple at the train and escorts them to their home upon their arrival in Lancaster.

Fresh Oysters.

Fresh oysters in the bulk; also good celery and fresh fruits of all kinds at 9 19-4t.

We can save your money on coal if bought now. Don't wait. Our stock of Rye, Wheat and Timothy seed is always complete. Let us show you. Phone 26. Hudson & Hughes.

"On the Home Stretch"--Just Eight More Days of the Central Record's Big Prize Contest

Who will be the winner of the beautiful Pony and Outfit, the Diamond Rings and Other Valuable Prizes. Don't waste any valuable time but work hard and gather in every available subscription. It is better to have a surplus of votes than not quite enough. All indications point to a close finish so that it is impossible to predict to whom victory will fall.

The Time Is Short

In which to win a prize for your "Favorite". Don't give up. Stick to the finish. Hundreds of dollars in prizes hang in the balance. Make your favorite a winner at all hazards.

Who will be the Winner of the handsome Pony and Outfit which will be given away by the Central Record on Oct. 4th.

Who will be the Winners of the beautiful Diamond Rings and other District Prizes?

These are some of the questions that are being asked daily all through this section and no one can answer them for no one knows—not even the contest manager. So close has the race become that it is impossible to even hazard a guess as to what the outcome will be.

Will you be a Winner? This is a question every contestant must answer. If you are made of the right stuff you will make certain that you will land a prize. It is certainly not worth while to enter the home stretch with any other idea than to breast the tape first. All things come to those who hustle and hustle every moment.

8—MORE DAYS—8

Just eight days more of this big prize competition. Not a very long time, to be sure—but just long enough to defeat more than one candidate unless some very strenuous efforts are put forth this week. Every vote counts and as many subscriptions as possible should be turned in for it is much better to have a surplus of votes on Oct. 4th than not quite enough.

ABOUT THE CLOSING

Many people, judging from the rumors and gossip, have an entirely erroneous idea as to the closing of the contest and are under the impression that it is possible for some persons to have inside knowledge which will enable them to turn in enough money to win out on the last day or night of the contest.

To insure absolute fairness the management has adopted the following precautions to govern the last three days of the contest. The Contest Manager will make his final counts on Wednesday, Oct. 3rd and all votes clipped from the paper must be deposited in the ballot box before eight o'clock that night. Immediately after he makes his final count the ballot box will be sealed and the key turned over to the judges who will be selected from prominent men of this city. The final three days voting will be entirely in their hands. So you can rest assured that any votes you place in the ballot box after Oct. 1 will not be seen by anyone until the judges open the box and begin to count the votes after the contest closes.

MISS CHRISTINE POLLITT.
DISTRICT NO. 1.

A charming young lady of this city who has become one of the strongest candidates in the Record's big race. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Pollitt, of the Methodist church. If predictions do not go amiss, she will be among the leaders on the closing day, and her vote total will stand as a big testimonial of the esteem and regard in which she is held by her many friends.

It is absolutely impossible for anyone to find out how many votes and subscriptions anyone has for no one knows—not even the contest manager. No record is kept of the number of votes issued and to whom issued. We simply keep the name and address of the subscriber and the length of the subscription. After the contest manager makes his final count the ballot box will be sealed (Continued on page 8)

MASTER JOE CABELL RAMSEY.
DISTRICT NO. 1.

A popular and ambitious young "fellow" of Lancaster who will have to be reckoned with when the final count of the votes is made. There are but few people in this section who do not know Master Joe and his many friends are doing everything possible to make him a winner. With the continued success of his loyal supporters, we expect to see him among the winners at the last.

With this issue of the Record we are taking the public into our confidence as to our future plans and prospects, and in turn we hope the public will give us full measure of their patronage and approval. We shall exert our utmost endeavors to give to you the very best county newspaper that it is possible to publish in Garrard county, but a newspaper cannot thrive of its own volition, it must have the encouragement and support of the people to whom it caters, and above all things it must have their patronage.

The county paper should be the county pride, and not a home in the county should miss its weekly visits. We shall be glad at any and all times to chronicle the goings and comings of you, your family and your friends, and we hope you will feel free to apprise us of the news in your locality, write us, tell us or telephone us, and when you are in town, call on us, you will always be welcome and we can always find time to devote a few minutes to your entertainment.

Frost Predicted.

The Weather Bureau in their bulletin for this week predicts frost over the Ohio Valley, and there are some people in this vicinity who aver that this prediction was fulfilled on Monday night. Anyway it was certainly cool enough, and we may expect it in the near future. There is considerable tobacco yet uncut through the county, and farmers are busy cutting and housing it against the probability of frost and freezing weather before many days.

County School Board.

Sup't Miss Jennie Higgins informs us that the following gentlemen will constitute the County School Board for the coming year: Division No. 1 Thomas M. Arnold Jr., Division No. 2 R. D. McMurtry, Division No. 3 H. C. Fowler and Division No. 4 T. P. King. These are all splendid gentlemen and men who take an active interest in the cause of education, and will doubtless make this a successful school year.

More Silos Needed.

The present drought, or the one just broken, should prove a strong argument in favor of the erection of silos on the farm, and some of our farmers are profiting by the success achieved by their neighbors in the past and having these very useful farm adjuncts built. The coming winter will no doubt be a hard one on the farmer who has any amount of stock to winter, because the exceeding scarcity and accompanying high prices of provender. This hardship could have been materially lessened by the building of a silo, which would have enabled to turn into ensilage the small corn and fodder which upon the other hand will be to a great extent wasted.

Patonize Home Industries.

We have dinned the above axiom into your ears unceasingly as regards other people, and we now beg your indulgence while we state our own claims to patronage. We are right now fully equipped and capable of turning out the very best line of job work at the very lowest prices consistent with good, honest work, and with the installation of our new plant and upon our removal to our new quarters we will be better than ever prepared along these lines. When you are in need of job work of any kind, from the plainest hand bill to the handsomest piece of engraving, call and figure with us, give us an opportunity to submit our prices and show you samples of our work, and we are satisfied that you will feel more than pleased to have your work done at home.

Game Warden Appointed.

Mr. J. S. Scalf, local agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., has been appointed Game Warden for Garrard county, has executed the required bond, qualified as required by law and will at once assume the duties of his office. The appointment was made by the Kentucky Fish and game Commission and appointees hold at the pleasure of that body.

There has in the past been many infringements of the game laws in Garrard, as well as in other counties of the state, but since the activities of the State Commission they have been reduced to the minimum, however, there are still a few seines dragged, and doubtless game killed out of season, and the new Game Warden will doubtless find himself a very busy man if he succeeds in stopping all of the infringements of the law in the county. It is hoped that he may have the support and encouragement in his efforts of every sportsman in the county as well as of those citizens who are anxious to protect their farms and property from the encroachment of random and careless hunters and fishermen.

Lancaster went through an unusually hot, dry summer with less sickness than has been known in many years. So much for the observance of the rules of sanitation, practice makes perfect, renew your efforts next year, and eventually we will be entirely free from disease.

Mrs. Al. Sanders Improving.

Mrs. Allison F. Sanders who recently underwent an operation in the Gibson Sanitarium in Richmond for an ailment of one of her feet, is improving rapidly and her ultimate recovery is assured.

Sherrod Ray's Will Probated.

The will of Sherrod Ray, a respectable colored man who died recently, was admitted to probate in the county court on Monday. He gave all of his possessions, consisting of the most part of a farm in the Buckeye neighborhood, to his wife during her lifetime, and at her death to go to his children.

The Drought Broken.

A splendid rain fell throughout the greater portion of the county on last Saturday relieving what has been one of the longest and most severe droughts we have ever known. Streams which have been completely dry are again running the cry for stock water has ceased, fall grass is beginning to come out and look green, the dust nuisance is abated, at least for a while and every body is happy.

Fox.

Mr. William Fox died at the home of his brother Sheriff B. G. Fox in Danville on last Saturday and his remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery on Sunday. Mr. Fox's death was the culmination of several years illness. He is survived by his aged mother Mrs. Sophronia Fox of Danville and by four brothers Messrs J. C. Fox of Lincoln, Fountain T. Fox of Lancaster and B. G. and Monte Fox of Danville. He was a nephew of Mrs. George Smith Sr. of Lancaster.

The deceased was for many years a prominent Central Kentucky horseman and owned some splendid stock, but ill health forced him to retire.

"Billy" Fox was a true gentleman, devoted to his aged mother, true hearted to his friends and kind hearted and charitable to all. Such a thing as an enemy he never knew, and all who ever had an insight to his noble character and lovable disposition, called him friend.

Riolata, W. B. Burton's Good Gelding Upholds County Pride At State Fair.

Garrard county horses certainly made up in quality what they lacked in numbers at the State Fair in Louisville last week, Riolata, W. B. Burton's crack gelding winning in his own class on Friday and then adding to his honors on Saturday by winning the $100 silver cup offered as a trophy in the championship roaster class. The latter class created considerable excitement as it was composed of nothing but winners and included among the entries some of the best roadsters, stallions, mares and geldings in the country, among the number being J. G. Cecil's "Thistle Doune", a magnificent animal and a prime favorite.

Mr. Burton has been campaigning Riolata in the various county fair rings and has achieved considerable success with him, but his debut into the fast society which he met in Louisville was not marked with very much enthusiasm, in fact he was not given very much attention, save by his owner who knew just exactly what might be expected of the good gelding, and who believed that with a fair field and no favorites the horse would be able to give a good account of himself, and such proved to be the case, for after winning in his own, the roaster class, he went into the very fastest company, against known and tried champions, and wrested their laurels from them, thereby proving himself to be the peer of the best road horses in the country, and giving to Garrard county the distinction of sending at least one winner into the circuit during the season of 1913.

EXPANDING.

The Record Keeps Pace With The Progressive Era Purchases New and Commodious Quarters and Improved Modern Machinery.

The Record recognizing the fact that the progressive spirit of the times demands improvement along all lines, has decided to keep pace with that spirit of progressiveness, and has purchased handsome quarters for its future home, which they will fit with the latest and most modern machinery known in the printers art, and will be better than ever prepared to care for the wants of its patrons, and to give to its subscribers and friends a better paper than was ever published in Lancaster.

We say this not in a spirit of boastfulness, and we fully recognize the fact that to eclipse the efforts of men who have edited newspapers here in the past will require an outlay of capital, both financial and mental, to say nothing of the exertion necessary to the task. We are free to confess that our determination along these lines is not entirely selfish, we believe that the exigencies of the occasion demands increased facilities, the installation of modern machinery in modern quarters, and believe that such action upon our part will result in an increase of business which will fully justify the outlay of the amount of capital involved in the making of the proposed changes.

We have purchased the building owned by the estate of the late N. A. and Martha Thompson, on Richmond street near the Public square, and will utilize the eastern store room, and as much more of the building as may be found necessary, to make a suitable home for the Record. This room is admirably adapted to our requirements, and after constructing a modern composing room in the rear, which we shall do at once, we believe there will be no more convenient newspaper office in Central Kentucky. For installation in our new home we have purchased a new "Miehle" cylinder press of the latest type, a new folding machine to use in conjunction with this press, besides other late model machinery, together with motive power of the latest improved pattern and of sufficient horse power to meet all requirements. We hope to be installed in our new quarters not later than January 1, 1914, and sooner than that time if it be possible.

The contest now in progress has added materially to our subscription list, and after it is closed we shall be untiring in our efforts to secure new subscribers, we shall have extra inducements to offer in the way of improvements in the publication, and we shall not be satisfied until the Record is a weekly visitor into every home in Garrard county, as well as to many homes in adjoining counties, and we shall spare no efforts to make it a welcome visitor.

Our policy shall be in the future as it has been in the past, A NEWS-PAPER FOR ALL THE PEOPLE, full of all the home news, and an abundance of such other reading matter as we deem will be of interest to our subscribers. The policy of the Record, as is well known is Democratic, but this does not mean that the paper is bitterly partisan, rather the reverse, and we do not expect, or is it our intention at any time to allow anything to appear in our columns which will have a tendency to injure the feelings of any of our people, regardless of what their political feelings may be, we believe that can be done, that we may consistently uphold the cause of democracy without those little petty thrusts and innuendoes which are calculated to offend those who may chance to be not of our political faith, in fact we expect in the future as we have in the past to edit a NEWSPAPER for the people of Garrard and adjoining counties, a paper which will be acceptable to everyone as a purveyor of news, a paper which will be a welcome visitor to the home of every citizen in the county, regardless of what his politics or religion may be.

"The Central Record" was established in 1890 by the late James R. Marrs, and succeeded the old "Central Kentucky News", a publication which was founded in 1883 and ably edited by Mr. M. D. Hughes; in 1895 Lewis Landram purchased the Record from Mr. Marrs and conducted it until 1908 when it was purchased by the present editor and Mr. F. S. Hughes, the latter assuming the editorial duties and management until February 1910, when his interests were assumed by Mr. Green Clay Walker who edited it until January 1, 1912 when it passed into the hands of the present management and ownership and Mr. Joseph E. Robinson became the editor.

All of the above named gentlemen were men of ability and experience in the newspaper business and gave to the public a good publication, and when we say that we expect to try to eclipse their undertaking, we are fully cognizant of the fact that we are assuming duties of no small proportion, but perseverance conquers all things, and as we have said before, the progress of the age demands more from a newspaperman, as well as they do from men in other walks of life, than they did a quarter of a century ago, and we hope by earnest efforts and the assistance of the help which we have at our disposal, together with the patience and encouragement of the public, to be able to "make good" and with all due respect to these splendid gentlemen and able editors who have preceded us, we hope to give to the reading public, not a better paper than they would furnish were they at the helm now, but a better paper than they did in their day, because of the fact that the times demand it, the material is at hand, and we believe that we shall succeed in our endeavors. Anyway, the people shall be the judge, and we shall be satisfied with their decision in the matter.

Ed Perkins Buys Interest In Shoe Business.

Mr. Ed Perkins who recently severed his connection with the Lancaster Elevator and Flour Mills, has purchased a half interest in the shoe and clothing business of Chas. Denman, of Nicholasville and will take possession at once. We regret to lose these excellent people but wish them much success in their new home.

Eleven young ministers were licensed to preach and admitted to the Conference and were ordained on Sunday. The next Conference will be held at Wilmore Ky. in 1914. Colds should be "nipped in the bud", for if allowed to run unchecked, serious results may follow. Numerous cases of consumption, pneumonia, and other fatal diseases, can be traced back to a cold. At the first sign of a cold, protect yourself by thoroughly cleansing your system with a few doses of the old reliable, vegetable liver powder. Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of Madison Heights, Va., says: "I have been using The Dorf's Black-Draught for stomach troubles, indigestion, and colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I ever used. It makes an old man feel like a young one." Insist on The Dorf's, the original and genuine. E-67

Proposition For Fair Election Turned Down.

Lancaster, Ky., Sept 6, 1913 Pursuant to an appeal by the Progressive candidates for County offices in Garrard County, Ky., published in The Central Record for the last two weeks, we the following candidates of the three political parties, whose names appear below, to be voted for at the coming November election; realizing how much it means to our people to have an election at which there are no corrupting influences used, and also realizing the growth of public sentiment along this line, and ever mindful of the fact that in a government of the people, the unpurged majority must rule, we the undersigned do most solemnly pledge to the people of Garrard County and among ourselves that we are unalterably opposed to the use of any corrupting influences whatever and do bind ourselves to use neither money nor whiskey nor will we allow it to be used by another in any way to secure our election. We also further affirm that we have not in any way used any corrupting influences whereby we have bound any person or persons to vote for us or any other candidate at the coming November election.

Referring to the above agreement which was drawn and signed by the Progressive candidates on Saturday the 6th. inst. to which they are pledged, we express our great disappointment on account of the fact that this appeal has been utterly ignored by all of the candidates of the other parties.

By their failure to come forward and agree to stand for clean elections, where no corrupting influences shall be used, they proclaim to the people of Garrard County, that they are in favor of present conditions now existing within our borders, which all good people regardless of past party affiliations must deeply deplore.

We are standing, in this elections, not alone for the offices, to which we aspire, for if that had been our only motive, we should never have been before you at this time, but we are standing for principles, which even our opponents must acknowledge are just and right.

We again express our deepest regret at the stand taken by these gentlemen, who are asking the good people of this county to elect them to fill the various offices for the next four years. We had a right to have expected better things from our opponents, when the very foundations of this Government today are being undermined by just such conditions as exist in this County. We, therefore appeal to the people of Garrard County, to show on which side they stand; whether they are in favor of conditions as they now exist, or whether they are in favor of conditions for which the Progressive party is contending.

Signed:

J. F. Holtzclaw candidate for Representative,
J. B. Bourne candidate for County Judge
R. S. Brown candidate for Sheriff.
John M. Duncan candidate for County Clerk.

Kentucky Wheat Drills.

The Kentucky Fluted Force Feed is the strictest sense of the term, and it sows all seeds, from flax to treated wheat, with unvarying accuracy. The range of quantities is very great, and the operator is not obliged to sow a peck or a bushel every time a variation in quantity is desired. In fact, the Kentucky Fluted Force Feed will enable the user to regulate the quantity to sow as low a fraction as a quart or a pint. One slight movement of each indicator lever sets every feed on the drill.

A large number of biennial weeds of which the burdock and dandelion are representative may be easily exterminated by hoeing up the plants that are in their first year and by cutting plants of the second year's growth just below the heart. The directions given are not effective in killing perennial plants, such as the nettle and quackgrass, which not only multiply by seedling, but by means of underground root stalks.

Notwithstanding the great improvement in farm implements and methods of agriculture in the western hemisphere, there are still sections of China in which the primitive methods of hundreds of years ago are still employed in plowing two men with ropes over their right shoulders and going tandem haul a very crude affair that turns a furrow six inches wide. In plowing an acre they travel fifteen miles. As each furrow is opened the seed is scattered, and the next furrow covers it.

Many a young man makes a fizzle of life because he starts out on the assumption that whatever progress he may make is largely the result of having a "pull"—that is, outside assistance from relatives and friends. The best "pull" any young man can have, and the only one that is worth a cent in the long run, is that which is the result of his own industry, sobriety and determination. Eventually he must stand on his own pegs, and the sooner he realizes this fact the better off he will be.

Readers of this department who may be interested in the growing of alfalfa should send to the department of agriculture at Washington for Farmers' Bulletin No. 329, prepared by J. M. Westgate. The author has spent years in studying the growing of alfalfa in every state in the Union, and the bulletin referred to gives the results of his research. The author is a Kansas man and had extensive experience in the growing of the legume in his native state before investigating it in other districts.

The luxuriance as well as the hardness of the common wild sweet clover as it is seen growing on hard and beaten roadsides and on the thin soils of railway cuts and river banks would seem to indicate quite conclusively that it has a mission as a crop to grow on the rough and less fertile portions of the farm. If used as pasture the cattle should be allowed to graze on it while it is tender, while if it is cut for hay it should be harvested before it gets old and tough. It is a soil loosener and enricher and should at least be given a trial where it is not possible to grow clover or alfalfa.

Pity the Unpainted House!

Would you go out in the pouring rain wearing your best clothes if you had no protection such as an umbrella or raincoat? Not if you could help it, you say.

Yet some people expect expensive material to be the elements without adequate protection. The building material in your house is expensive and should be protected. Otherwise it will be ruined as surely as the fine clothes you wouldn't wish to wear out in the rain.

That all of our drinks are bottled in clear bottles.

That we have one of the most complete and might also add the most expensive washing outfits it is possible to obtain.

No Fair-No Stock.
It is to say the least of it humiliating to be unable to see the name of a Garrard county exhibitor, either lucky or unlucky, among the list of entries at the State Fair. This is due chiefly to the fact that we failed to have a fair at home this year, and consequently our people failed to have anything in condition to show either at Louisville.
Most assuredly it was not due to the fact that we have no stock capable of competing successfully with our neighbors, for there is no better stock of any description, horses, mules, hogs, sheep or what not raised in any county in the state than in old Garrard. This is indeed a humiliating lesson and one which we hope will never have to be taught us again, that no fair in Garrard means a falling off in the condition and quality of the stock of the county.
When our annual fair in Lancaster is a certainty, our farmers usually have some animal about their places which they deem worthy of preparation for exhibition, and they give that animal a little extra attention; the knowledge that we are to have a fair stimulates to giving better care to all of our stock,
and better care means better stock,
and better stock means better prices,
and better prices means better satisfied farmers, and what better argument could you wish in favor of a Garrard county fair.
This is but one of many equally as potent reasons why we should hold an annual exhibition in the county, which should we attempt to set forth at this time, would occupy more time and space than we have to spare. Suffice is to say that we need the fair, and we must have it, and we hope before the coming of another season to see a fair association organized, grounds either purchased or leased for a term of years, and preparations made for the holding of an exhibition annually.

NEURITIS FOLLOWS CRIPPLED NERVES
Painful Effects Of Chronic Rheumatism
Quickly Routed by Rheuma.
If your nerves are all crippled from attacks of Rheumatism, Neuritis can easily get a strong hold on the nerves.
This most painful disease is one of the hardest known to expel, but RHEUMA can reach it if given a chance. This testimony is positive proof.
"Last March I was so crippled with Neuritis in left limb I could walk scarcely at all. Tried all remedies I heard of and had two physicians. Nothing did me any good until I used RHEUMA; also used ENGLISH MAR-HUE and NERVALINE—$2.00 worth of your medicines surely cured me—

Editor Record:
Please tell our friends a few things
concerning our trip to the Pacific coast.
We can only hit the high places, as an attempt to go into detail would only bewilder. One must see that great country, with its wonderful resources, its beautiful cities and its wonderful, sublime scenery to realize its marvelous growth and its far reaching possibilities. Of the 13 states in which we traveled, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota contribute most liberally to the bread basket of the world, in corn and wheat. Washington yields 50 to 60 bushels of wheat and, in some sections 100 bushels of oats per acre, but, having the snow-capped Cascade and Olympic mountains, the nights are too cool for an abundant production of corn.
Seattle, the metropolis of Washington, was our objective point, on account of the dear relatives who reside there and who did so much to make our visit the most enjoyable one during life. The ties there and here are both strong,
but the trite saying, "you can not transplant an old tree", is true in this case. We prefer our conservative environments rather than the rushing whirlwind methods which prevail there and which yield great results for the young and active.

The spirit and growth of Seattle is phenomenal. It is a young city and contains 300,000 souls. It is supported by fruit, lumber, fisheries, the Alaskan and oriental trade. Peaches weigh 12 ounces, and other fruits in proportion. Trees grow from five to eight feet in diameter. One man built a room on a stump, where he lives and cultivates his ranch. A man sells goods in a log, it having been excavated, with two windows and doors. It is not unusual for a ship to come in with 100,000 pounds of fish. There are more beautiful parks than any city I have seen. The streets and boulevards are perfect, being made of asphalt, some running several miles from the city to parks. The Nolands took us over one of these roads to a chicken ranch, of 20 acres, where we saw 3,000 white leghorns. There are 25,000 automobiles in the State, the Ford being in the majority.
The buildings are beautiful and attractive, some business houses having from 30 to 42 stories. The temperature is ideal, averaging about 64 degrees. The summers are cool, and the mercury seldom drops to freezing.
The school system is the best in the nation, the per cent of illiteracy being less than in any city in the nation.
Over 27,000 children entered the schools of Seattle on September first, one thousand teachers attended the institute for the county in which the city is located, in August.
Seattle is the gateway to Alaska;
the nearest American port on the Panama Canal route to the orient; is now spending twenty million dollars for additional terminal facilities; it is the port for over sixty different steamship lines, and the Pacific Coast terminal for eight transcontinental railroads. It will have a million of people, or more. We sailed in a steamer, on Puget Sound to Bremerton to see the U. S. Navy yards, where we saw several large battle ships.
The university of Washington is in Seattle, and costly school buildings and churches are scattered all over the city. The people are law-abiding and the citizenship is high class. The laws are rigid, and are generally enforced. For instance, a barber is fined $50 for shaving a man on Sunday.
I sent you a brief sketch from Yellowstone Park, the wonders and mysteries of which eclipse anything we have seen. We wish that all our friends could see it. The weather was cool while we were there and we were not annoyed by mosquitoes, though we were told by our coach driver that a man had a cow with a bell to tell her whereabouts. She and her calf strayed from the premises. After a search the owner found that the mosquitoes had eaten the cow and were ringing the bell for the calf.
Thanking our son for making the trip possible, and thanking you in advance for publishing this imperfect
and hurriedly written sketch, I am,
Yours truly,
M. D. Hughes.

CONTEST

and so that it cannot be opened until the judges are ready, after the contest closes, to make the count and decide the winners. It can readily be seen that no person is in a position to furnish anyone with tips which would give her an advantage over the other candidates. The entire aim of the management of the Central Record and the contest department is to safeguard the interests of all candidates so that there will be absolutely no possibility of anything but a square deal to all. It is the contestants who put forth the most active efforts from now until the close that will have the best chance.

WARNING.

The Contest Manager issues a warning that no checks will be accepted on Oct. 1, 2, 3, and 4—the last four days of the contest. If you take checks for subscriptions have them made payable to yourself and convert into cash before making final settlement.

CLOSES 2 P. M. OCT. 4TH.

The Central Record's Great Prize Campaign which has been the talk of this part of Kentucky for the past few weeks, will come to a close promptly at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4th. Those depending on the mails to send in the votes and subscriptions should mail them so they will be sure to reach the Record office before the closing hour. Don't take any chances on not getting them here in time for if they fail to do so you might lose a prize. Pick up all your subscriptions and reserve votes and send them to the contest department so that they will reach us before the closing hour. By reserve votes we mean the white ballots which have been given or sent back to you when you turned in subscriptions. Send all of these ballots that you have in reserve back to the contest department so they will reach us the closing day. Seal in envelopes before sending, and we will drop in the ballot box for you. Or better still, come to Lancaster if you can the closing day and drop them into the ballot box yourself.

NOTICE.

All votes clipped from the paper must be deposited in the ballot box before Wednesday night, Oct. 1st. Vote ballots issued on subscriptions are good at any time up to the close of the contest and need not be deposited in the ballot box until the last hour of the contest.

Commencing today, the limit will be taken off and contestants may poll and publish as many votes as they desire.

VOTE SCHEDULE THIS WEEK.

During the remainder of the contest, we will give 15,000 extra votes ON EVERY DOLLAR'S WORTH OF NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS TURNED IN to the contest department and double votes on 11 old subscriptions. Following is the schedule of votes:

IMPORTANT.

If there is any mistake in any contestant's vote up to the present date, it must be called to the attention of the contest manager before next Wednesday night. Otherwise, according to the rules of the contest, this count up to date must be accepted as correct.

JUDGES MAKE FINAL COUNT.

Immediately after the last subscriptions have been turned in and all the votes deposited in the ballot box on Saturday, Oct. 4th at 2 P. M., the judges will commence the work of counting the votes.

Put forth your very best efforts during the remainder of the contest. Big prizes are sometimes lost by a very narrow margin of votes such as you would get on two or three subscriptions. Don't let this happen in your case. Get every subscription you can for you will need every subscription you can possibly get to win. All indications point to a very close finish.

Mr. J. B. Ruble Appointed Election Commissioner.

The State Board of Election Commissioners has commissioned Mr. J. B. Ruble to be an Election Commissioner for Garrard county to succeed Mr. J. Fleece Robinson, who resigned because of the fact that a goodly portion of his time is spent in the South and he did not feel that he could give the proper amount of his time to the discharge of his duties as Commissioner. No better man could have been chosen to succeed Mr. Robinson than Mr. Ruble and his appointment will doubtless meet the approbation of every one. A sterling democrat, ever ready to heed the call of his party, and at the same time an upright, honorable gentleman, he may be depended upon to give everyone "a square deal".

John B. Stout Appointed Master Commissioner.

In the Boyle Circuit Court at Danville Wednesday, Judge Chas. Hardin appointed John B. Stout Master Commissioner to succeed the Hon. W. J. Price, who was recently appointed minister to Panama.

Mr. Stout is a dyed in the wool democrat and the appointment will no doubt prove a popular one.

Fun Makers.

Coburns greater minstrels played to a well filled house last Friday night at the Opera House. There was a continuous uproar of laughter from the rising of the first curtain until the lowering of the last. Every one left the house well pleased with the performance, and are looking forward for a return date of these popular fun makers, the only first class minstrel seen here since the burning of the old Opera house in 1902.

MUSIC-BURGOO.

A Whole Day Of Amusement, Lancaster Merchants To Act Hosts To The People Of Garrard And Adjoining Counties.

Saturday October 4th, all day long is to be a day of jollification and pleasure in Lancaster. Lancaster merchants are to do the honors, and they do not do things by halves, they have donated liberally toward making the day one of entertainment and pleasure for their friends and customers. The object of the "spread" is to exploit the wares of the Lancaster stores, to show the people that just as good goods are to be had just as cheap at home as elsewhere, and to create an active interest of home people in home trade, to show that the inducements they have to offer and thereby stimulate a healthy patronage of the home merchants. A splendid Brass Band has been engaged for the occasion and good music will be dispensed during the entire day. Burgoo will also be served in the Park, rich, hot whole some Burgoo in unlimited quantities, and everyone is invited to partake freely of it. You are not compelled to buy, the object is to show you just what is kept in stock by the merchants of Lancaster, to apprise you of the fact that it is not necessary for you "to go to the city" or to adjoining towns to secure what you wish, that you may secure just as good and just as stylish goods right here at home, and at just as low prices, and thereby save the expense and trouble of a long journey.

Everybody should come in and take part in this laudable enterprise, these people are your friends and neighbors, they make their money here and they spend it here, they are interested in seeing you receive good prices for the products of your farm, and they are every ready to lend of both their time and money to further the interests of the town and county in any and all possible ways.

School Notes.

In reward for the greatest improvement in passing in and out of building and to and from the auditorium, the pupils of Miss Smith's room were given a one-hour holiday Friday afternoon. This hour of freedom is to be offered each week to the room showing the greatest improvement in this drill work.

Mrs. Curry served as substitute for Miss Robinson who was called to Louisville on business Tuesday.

In the faculty meeting Monday afternoon it was decided that the teachers should hold forth nightly gatherings. The business meetings at the school building on Thursday afternoons will alternate with those held at the homes on Thursday evenings in which the study and social features are to be combined. Professional subjects will be read and discussed.

Rev. J. R. Smith visited the school Tuesday morning and made a splendid speech on the importance of co-operation in school work. Photographer Montgomery made a picture of the school; the handsome boys and pretty girls all want to secure one.

The Seniors will render a program Friday morning in the auditorium. The window-boxes that are being made will, when put in, make the rooms more attractive and stimulate love for plants and flowers.

Attorney Murray Smith of Richmond and Miss Florence Rogers of Lexington visited the school Tuesday.

County Court Day Brings An Unusually Large Crowd To Town, But Business Dull In All Lines.

Monday, county court day brought a large crowd to town, but the majority of the people seemed more bent upon investigating as to conditions and the outlook for the coming winter rather than transacting any kind of business. A large number of mule colts, were brought to town, but for the most part they were taken home by their owners, the offerings for them being few and the price tendered unsatisfactory, some few changed hands at prices ranging from $50, to $100, per head.

A feeling of anxiety seemed to pervade the crowd, an uncertainty as to just what the near future would bring forth to the farmer and stockman, and while the prospect for high feed and a scarcity of it during the coming winter is almost a surety, the farmers were yet loth to part with their holdings for the prices offered, hoping that the prices might become better in the near future.

We are inclined to the belief that this feeling is to a great extent unwarranted and that in the course of a short time everything will right itself to the satisfaction of all. The prospect is that tobacco will bring a good price, and as the crop in this county is far above the average we believe that it will make amends for the shortage in the corn crop, and often that crop is not nearly so bad as has been pictured, and we believe that the farmers should take a more rosy view of the situation.

Kentucky Breaks Coal Record Last Year's Production Shows Increase Of Nearly 2,500,000 Tons.

The production of coal in Kentucky established a new record in 1912 with a total production of 16,490,521 short tons, according to Edward W. Parker, coal statistician of the United States Geological Survey. This large output represented an increase of 2,440,813 tons over the figures for 1911, and of nearly 2,000,000 tons over the former maximum output of 1910. There was an even greater increase in value in 1912, namely, $2,845,749 over the figures for 1911. The increased production in Kentucky was due chiefly to the new developments in the eastern part of the State, although the western counties participated largely in the gain. The number of men employed in the mines in 1912 was 24,304, and the average production per man, 673 tons. Kentucky ranks second among the States in the percentage of coal produced by machines, Ohio holding first place. In 1912, 66 per cent of the coal produced was machine mined. Labor troubles in the State were insignificant during the year, but according to the United Bureau of Mines there were 51 fatalities in and about the mines, 41 underground, 2 in shafts, and 8 on the surface.

State Has Great Coal Reserve. Kentucky is the only one of the coal-producing States which has within its borders areas belonging to any two of the distinctly separate great coal fields. The eastern counties of the State are underlain by the coal beds of the great Appalachian Mountain system, extending entirely across the State in a northeast-south-west direction, while the southern limits of the central or eastern interior coal field are found in the more northern counties of the western part of the State. The total area underlain by coal in the eastern counties of Kentucky is estimated at 10,270 square miles, and the coal-bearing areas in the western part of the State are estimated to contain 6,400 square miles. Up to the close of 1911 the larger part of the production of the State had been from the western district, but as a result of extensive developments in Harlan, Johnson Letcher, and Pike counties, the larger part of the coal production in 1912 was from the eastern part of the State. The eastern Kentucky coals are mostly high-grade "gas" or "coking" coals, with some cannel coal.

SOME ALFALFA EXPERIMENTS.

In view of the widespread as well as increasing interest in the subject of alfalfa growing it is worth giving a summary in this department of bulletin No. 123, which has been lately issued by the Nebraska experiment station and tells of the experience of farmers in different parts of the state in getting a start with this valuable legume. Twelve farmers co-operated in the work, carrying it on according to suggestions and directions of the station directors. In this co-operative experimental work it was the aim to try out and compare the effect of three treatments in securing a stand of alfalfa and on subsequent growth—first, liquid nitrogen cultures sent out by the United States department of agriculture; second, soil from well established alfalfa fields, and third, farm manure. Owing to the prevalence of drought and grasshoppers during the years 1910 and 1911 there was a failure on the part of some of the co-operators to get a stand, but the results secured by those who did get a stand brought out the following conclusions: That the use of farm manure in proper amounts and properly applied is to be strongly recommended, that where difficulty is experienced in getting a stand the soil should be inoculated and that inoculation with soil from a well established alfalfa field or sweet clover patch gave uniformly better results than were secured by the use of liquid cultures.

FOR CANNING SMALL FRUIT.

A lady reader of these notes gives the writer the following recipe for canning strawberries, raspberries and other small fruits and has given him a can of fine looking strawberries as proof that the method she follows is a success: She first sterilizes her cans and covers with boiling water, then fills them with the uncooked berries, setting the cans in a dishpan containing a quantity of warm water. Prior to this she has prepared her sirup, which is boiling hot. As soon as the water in the pan is brought to a boil the cans containing the berries are removed to a platter and the sirup is then poured over them. As the berries shrink some, reducing the volume in the cans, enough sirup is added so that the cans run over. The covers are then screwed on, and the job is done. The chief advantage of this method seems to be that the berries retain their shape much better than where they are cooked for some time.
